

Date: August 28, 1984

Author: Jim Gordon

Category: Gordon and other Talks-Reports

JIM GORDON

AUGUST 28, 1984

QUESTIONS BROUGHT ABOUT BY PREVIOUS TAPES

The first question on this tape asks about the point beyond the realm of God mentioned in an earlier tape discussing the silent ones beyond the realm of God. What is it?

J: It's a point in which all consciousness exists beyond the level which is God. God is the awareness of that consciousness. It's a very hard concept to explain. If you take a pool of water and the water is lying very still and not moving at all, you might say that in that water there is no movement or in that water there is no consciousness of movement. But if you cause a drop of water to fall into the pool - or a stone - and it causes ripples - movement on the surface of the water, that becomes awareness. So the water becomes aware of itself through movement. And that's what God is - it's that consciousness that is going into a state of movement to find awareness of self. And then from that beginning of searching for awareness of self, became God and from God all was created, in the desire to understand more, the desire to go beyond. You see? Does that explain it?

K: The desire to find the awareness is what created God?

J: Yeah, right.

K: The desire to find the awareness of self? Of universe? Of love? Of what?

J: The full awareness of self - that is to understand totally who is. It's very hard to understand here because we have to put words and concepts and emotions and definitions to what it is we are trying to find out about - the awareness. But that's consciousness. Awareness is just being in a state where you are and you know that you are and you know what it is that you are. Consciousness is when you start defining.

K: So we all came from that.

J: Right

K: Is there anything beyond that?

J: Not that I'm aware of. If there is I don't know it. I don't think so.

K: And starting there with being aware of what we were and what everything was. it came down to God and then creation started?

J: Well, it didn't come down. The desire to know came into being.

K: Why would the desire to know come into being if we already knew who we were?

J: We didn't - you know, IT didn't. It just was. And then the desire to know what was put movement into that pattern and that set the vibration just a little bit lower and it was at that level of awareness that God then came into being.

K: And God, in effect, is all of us and everything?

J: Right. See, from that one point of awareness of being all was created, which we call God. And it's through that point that we can go back in to that total state of being at one.

K: O.K. Tell me what happened on Sirius.

J: Like in what way?

K: I don't know - some months ago Cleora made a statement that she had been crying for two or three days because of what happened on Sirius and why we all had to come here.

J: That you would have to ask her about because I don't know what she experienced, so I really couldn't say.

K: My understanding from your experience was that we didn't have to come here - we chose it.

J: Right. It was a chosen experience. We had to participate at some level somewhere so this was the best place as far as we could determine because the need was here.

K: Well, did Sirius destroy itself?

J: NO. The physical planet pretty much did - the sun went into a nova state and the planet was not livable anymore.

K: But we didn't blow ourselves up or anything.

J: NO. There's still a planet there in the astral state.

K: There's still a star - is it the same place?

J: Yeah.

K: What happens on the astral planet there?

J: That's where a lot of people continue their growth if they haven't grown enough to go beyond the astral, then they can go ahead and continue their growth pattern there. You know what I mean?

K: I guess. You're talking about people who aren't reincarnating physically.

J: Not physically. There's an astral planet there. Eventually this planet will do the same thing. There'll be an astral existence possibly only and not really a physical planet existence any more. The physical planet may exist but humanity will not need to exist in the physical here and so therefore it will just be an astral, educational planet. I doubt if it will happen though, because this is one of the planets that is a good source for physical embodiment, the physical mind - and I expect it will continue to be that way for quite a while.

K: Astrally - I know that you have the choice to be in the astral plane if you choose to - or the spiritual plane. So next time...

J: Well, the best way to serve - in the capacity that I'm going to be serving, is to be serving on all the different ones at once. Physical - all the different levels. Because then you can really do more of the complete work. Doing it in that sense - then you would serve like the ascended masters would be serving from the astral level. And there - to some extent - you limit the kind of service you perform because you really cannot give that much aid to those in the physical. To do that you have to have a physical focus. And so they really serve more from the astral level on up. I might choose that - I don't know. Now, I could choose to go to Mars, which is an astral existence - an astral planet - and there I would only descend down to the astral - no lower - because it's only astral. So there I would be serving from the lowest point of reference there.

K: Are there any others of us connected with the Foundation in any way that are split souls?

J: I don't know. I would suspect but I would really have to do some meditating on that. I would suspect.

K: O.K. I'm not even sure I would want to know.

J: (laughs) I just always knew about John Fetzer and John Davis because those are the two people I was working with so closely.

K: And they didn't?

J: No. They never could understand why I kept trying to get them together all these years.

K: And John and Lynne too. Did that surprise them?

J: Yeah. I told John and Lynne about that about a year ago and they worked through that and just recently I told them about Nancy and John Davis and now they're working through all that. It's a difficult concept for anyone to understand, especially if you're not that well attuned to the other side and can experience it yourself - you just take it from somebody else's word - it's a very hard concept to accept without the actual experience of it.

K: You mean in all these lifetimes they have been?

J: No. Well, it's always from the same soul but sometimes they may just come in one embodiment. Sometimes they may come down in two and sometimes in four like they have this time. But it's always the same soul.

K: For instance Theresa and John of the Cross.

J: Yeah, that was in the same soul.

. K: Just like Anthony and Francis.

J: Right. O.K., during the time of Thomas Jefferson, John Davis and John Fetzer - the male aspect of that soul was in one body and right now it's in two.

K: What about the time that he was Louis and she was his mistress?

J: I don't know - that's something I've been trying to find out. I'm not real sure on that. I think I know, but I'm not real sure.

K: If they weren't, what could it be?

J: They were the same soul but they may have been more than one or two bodies. Right now John Davis is serving as the spiritual expression and John Fetzer is serving as the physical expression of the same soul. And Lynne serves to be a spiritual balancer for John Fetzer and Nancy serves as a physical balancer for John Davis.

K: What about Ireland? What's exciting about Ireland?

J: What makes you ask that?

K: Nevermind, just tell me about it.

J: I can't because I'm just working on it. But it's interesting that you mentioned that. Matter of fact I know what you could do - you could try to get some information on a man by the name of St. Bernadine around 700 a.d. in Ireland - maybe it was Brendon - that's it - Brendon.

K: Do we know Michaelangelo?

J: Yeah, well I do. You know of him.

K: St. Francis?

J: Yeah.

K: What do you think you will eventually be doing?

J: I'm going to be doing spiritual teaching. I've been getting some things lately on trying to put together what I call a life center, which will have many different things incorporated into it. And I don't know how that's ever going to work. Putting spiritual lessons together for people and presenting them in that way - discourses or something. And I really don't know all that it's going to incorporate.

K: So...in the beginning...there really was a void.

J: Yeah. It was without form. In the beginning was a void in a sense where there was all but nothing. Because the All knew nothing - the All was not aware of itself.

K: Hmm...working with you is sometimes mind blowing - you know that?

J: (laughs) It seems so funny because I just assume everybody somehow knows this - I don't know why it seems strange that other people don't know it.

Let me read you what I just wrote - I think I know what you want now. "A Journey up the Nile River is a most mysterious and intriguing experience, where you find yourself being transported into another reality of time and space. As you walk the ancient walkways and gaze at the hieroglyphics carved so long ago you can't help but feel yourself slipping into a distant past. As you attempt to understand this new reality within yourself, you begin to see a life and light within these ruins which continue to share its knowledge with those who have ears to hear and eyes to see. In order to best understand the ancient Nile and the wisdom which lies along its banks, we must begin our trip at a point in time when the mystery schools flourished. Here in Egypt along the Nile River we find today the ruins of temples and many other complexes which at one time served as major centers for the populace. Some of the ruins are of ancient towns with a central market square, where people from all over the area brought in there wares and foodstuffs to trade and sell. Here you would find people from all walks of life coming together to share in a daily ritual of marketing.

K: Things like explaining what a chakra is.

J: Yeah - I've introduced the idea of a mystery school and then I'll go into it.

K: Yeah, I want to go back to a mystery school.

J: (laughs) You are in one.

K: (laughs) I know it.